Adaptive Pseudo-Spectral Method
for Solving HFB Equations

George Fann

Oak Ridge National Laboratory

Abstract

A new variation of an adaptive pseudo-spectral method for solving HFB equations will be described. It is less dependent on eigensolvers and is more scalable if the clusters of degenerate eigenvalues are relatively small. Scaling performance results for beyond 100K cores will be described and analyzed.